Aim –

There are two distinct elements in the School's religious provision.

- The teaching of RE within the curriculum is the responsibility of the Religious Education Co-ordinator, a fully qualified and experienced teacher.
- The Chaplain, an ordained minister of the Church of England, co-ordinates of the spiritual life of the School and all aspects of worship.

The School welcomes students of any religion, philosophical belief or none and will try to facilitate worship for followers of any faith.

- The School comes together twice a week for a whole school assembly. The Chaplain plays a part in ensuring that most assemblies include elements of worship.
- There is a short weekly lunchtime service which all staff and students are welcome to attend.
- Students can go with a member of staff to local churches on three Sundays of each month.
- If a residential student wanted to attend a different place of worship this would be arranged with the support of their MDT.
- The Chaplain can also prepare students for Confirmation, either for the local church or for their church at home.
- A Christian Union has been established meets four times each term on a Wednesday evening.

Religious Education

Religious Education should foster in students a reflective approach to life, enabling and enriching this process through their study of living faiths, acknowledging the fact that the religious traditions in Great Britain are in the main Christian, while also taking into account the teachings and practices of the other principal religions represented in the country: Buddhism, Hinduism, Judaism, Islam, Sikhism.

The Education Act 1996 requires that Religious Education should be taught to all pupils except those withdrawn at the wish of the parents. Our programmes of study are not designed to convert students, or to urge a particular religion or religious belief on students, but do reflect the agreed Syllabus for Hampshire, Portsmouth and Southampton: "Living Difference".

When studying a religion we respect and value the contributions made by any student who is a member of that religion.

Each class has Religious Education lessons during the year, at an appropriate level for their needs.

For some classes this is experiential topic work; for others it is festival based sessions at appropriate times of the year; and for others it is topic based work which is one third Christianity, one third another religion, and one third cross religion topic work (such as religion and the environment).

As well as the acquisition of knowledge and understanding, religious education seeks to promote the particular skills of

- reflection
- empathy
- comprehension
- interpretation and analysis
- evaluation

while also promoting students' skills in literacy; citizenship, speaking and listening; information technology.

We particularly hope to foster attitudes such as

- respect
- open -mindedness
- tolerance
- wonder and appreciation

in the study of religions and the spiritual dimension of human life.

The Role of the Chaplain

The School was founded on Christian principles and employs a part-time Chaplain for the pastoral and spiritual care of students and staff. As the School is non-denominational the Chaplain is available for those of any faith or none.

The Chaplain is a member of the multi-disciplinary team of staff who serve at the School and College. As such he/she is concerned for the students as whole people, in their relationships, values, doubts and beliefs. While comparatively few may have obvious religious needs the Chaplain recognises that all have spiritual needs. He/She therefore seeks to explore and discover meaning and purpose in their lives.

This frequently involves helping to clarify the right questions rather than producing easy answers. He/She also encourages the development of a mature and living faith. The chaplain works closely with the Counselling Team to provide support across the school and college community at times of death, grief and bereavement.

The Chaplain is available to support lessons on request, and may also teach some lessons if required.
