Context and Introduction

At Treloar School & College we are committed to providing all our students with a comprehensive programme of careers education, information, advice and guidance (CEIAG) and work-related learning.

As an SEN School & College we take a needs led, personalised approach to CEIAG where the term

'Careers' is viewed holistically. Career related goals may come in different guises for young people with complex learning/disability needs, but they are all equally valid to the individual and their family. Whilst expectations at Treloar's is exceptionally high, the perception, methodology and delivery of 'Careers' may differ to that on offer in a mainstream setting, as detailed by

Tolentino in a research article 'Same & Different' (2016)

The Careers and Development Institute states that 'Careers, employability and enterprise education' is an umbrella term to denote a range of activities and process that can support the choices made by young people. In the context of supporting choices it is essential that information, advice and guidance (IAG) for young people is impartial and student centred.

Policy/Procedure Name: Careers Guidance

Policy/Procedure No: SMT009

IAG activities may include assessing, informing, advising, guiding, counselling, supporting, coaching, mentoring, advocating, referring and feeding back to learning and support systems.

IAG interactions with young people usually work through a process of assessment, planning and review.

The main statutory guidance related to Careers in schools and colleges is currently the Careers

Guidance and Access for Education and Training Providers (2018) alongside the Gatsby

Benchmarks, The Gatsby Benchmarks, neither which focus on Careers Education for SEN schools or colleges. The Careers Development Institute has developed a SEND version of the national framework which we will use to measure ourselves against. Our programme is differentiated in order to meet the complex needs of our students.

Careers Education, Health and Care Plans (EHCP) and the SEN Code of Practice

As an SEN School and College we are governed ultimately by the Department for Education SEND Code of Practice 2015. This key document states that it is important that young people start to think about their aspirations as early as possible and that from year 9 there is help to start planning for a successful transition to adulthood. This includes setting challenging and ambitious outcomes and exploring further education or training that will enable young people to secure paid work and other opportunities for a positive adult life.

For students with more complex needs, a coordinated assessment process or Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP), which can continue up to the age of 25, can help set goals and support in relation to the four areas of Preparing for Adulthood:

Employment or education

Independent Living

Friends Relationships & Community

Good Health

All students, attending Treloar School and College will have an EHCP and a statutory Annual Review of this plan. All students will have long term outcomes that are relevant for further education/work, future living, community, relationships and good health. Long term outcomes will be reviewed annually.

An enormous range of careers related activity takes place leading up to the Annual Review, including: gaining the students views about their future, enabling their full contribution to the review itself, working with families and a network of professionals to ensure careers guidance is relevant, impartial and based on a student's aspirations and long-term outcomes.

The aims of the CEIAG are the same for all young people: independent living and working, choice, access to and engagement in work/community, opportunities to learn and make progress, and the pursuit of wellbeing and happiness regardless of individual needs.

For our students the difference is in how they need to learn, communicate, their priorities within that learning, how far they will get, the rate of progress and the outcomes they want to achieve.

Careers Education, Information, Advice and Guidance

Our ethos is to provide all our students with a holistic programme which is embedded into the wider curriculum, all adults in the school and college are involved in the planning, delivery, implementation of the programme. This includes class teachers/tutors, therapists, student support assistants, Senior Management team (SMT) and The Transition Team.

Careers advice takes a variety of forms and looks very different for each student. The advice and guidance may therefore require a different set of knowledge and skills to that of the 'traditional' and mainstream model usually provided. The needs of the student are such that in most cases, advice and guidance would be beneficial when delivered by a trusted and familiar adult in a manner most suited to their needs. This multi-disciplinary approach also provides the impartiality required as all parties working with or on behalf of the student and family are able to contribute.

A wide range of additional professionals will be involved in supporting students and their families including, but not limited to: Social Workers, Advocates and Health Professionals

The Careers Programme will always be reflected within the School and Colleges Improvement Plan to continually develop and improve our provision.

Our Careers Programme

- Inspire students and raise their aspirations from year 7
- Actively involve all young people making decisions that affect their future, both individually and collectively
- Help students to explore their strengths and interests
- Promote and share a common belief and understanding that careers, for our students, comes in many forms including work of many different types and varieties, further/higher education, future living, community engagement, and relationships
- Empower students to develop self-awareness and awareness of others, of both independence and interdependence
- Tailor work experience placements to closely match the environment, routines, level and type of support and work-related activity to the student's preferred choice, to better enable a successful and productive experience for both student and workplace.
- Consider all possible transitional pathways for individual students, including employment, education, community engagement and future living
- Provide a board and varied range of careers guidance and information, in ways that support the students' needs and their families
- Provide a broad and varied range of opportunities to develop independence and work skills
- Work with students and their families to ensure that their EHCP reflects their aspirations, strengths and needs and associated outcomes with reference to career, independent living, community relationships and good health.
- Provide challenging pathways which support opportunities for further education, employment, future living options, relationships, community access and good health from P Levels upwards

Policy/Procedure Name: Careers Guidance

Policy/Procedure No: SMT009

- Provide opportunities to develop transferable life and social skills that support careers, employability and enterprise (where appropriate)
- Work with students to develop self-advocacy, decision-making and transition skills
- Develop underpinning functional and essential skills for everyday living and working life
- Develop mutual learning relationships with local employers which will improve employment practices for people with SEND in the local area.
- Resources are in an accessible format and tailored to students needs
- Provide employers with a comprehensive induction before students are placed with the employer and an opportunity to receive disability awareness training

Careers Programme Provision

- Information Advice and Guidance for all students
- Careful consideration and profiling of student's aspirations, areas of strengths and need, learning and communication styles, personal care and medical needs to enable us to meet the needs of individual students
- Differentiated opportunities embedded across the curriculum to develop transferable life and social skills that support careers, employability, future living, community access, career management and enterprise
- Subjects promoting aspects of careers include: Literacy and Numeracy, Citizenship, PSHE, Science, ICT, Independent Living Skills, Community Skills, Work Related Learning, Art, Media, Enterprise, and Employability and Independence Pathways. These are taught through a formal structured approach or as a topic-based approach.
- Sixth Form and College students can access discrete career sessions linked to interviewing, application skills, career, finances, health & safety at work, communication at work and in the community, rights, responsibilities and routines at work, travel training for work independent living, personal presentation, amongst other career related topics.

- School and College students are encouraged to develop leadership and collaboration skills by becoming involved in the School/College council, the Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme, chairing their MDT meetings and on the Board of Governors.
- The development of student's self-advocacy skills and voice, including the use of Augmentative and Assistive Communication (AAC) and adult advocates to support communication and active involvement in making decisions that affect them, both individually and collectively.
- Purposeful interactions with a range of trusted and familiar adults including Treloar staff, professionals and visitors to develop work related social skills
- Bespoke work opportunities for all appropriate students from year 11 onwards. This may be within various departments within Treloar, including the shop, Trust, Catering, Facilities and Fund Raising. Work experience takes place when the student is ready for each experience rather than according to a set timetable.
- Independent information, advice and guidance for students and parents from a wide range of professionals including a dedicated transition team, teachers/tutors, learning support assistants, health professionals, Children's and Adults Social Services, external advocates and a range of providers at our annual future fest event
- Access to a trained Careers Advisor to advise students, families and staff
- Access to employers through internal and external visits
- Support with CV writing, skills, audits, job searches, application forms, interview skills etc.
 (where appropriate for the learner) will be provided within the class, transition sessions, as well as via external organisations, such as Whizzkids and the Department of Work & Pensions school programme.
- Visits to work and community places
- Progression (where appropriate for the learner) on to the Supported Internship Programme
- Annual information event, Future Fest attended by local and national care providers, education, community access/activities, mobility for both students and families

- Active involvement and support from the Treloar Alumni
- College students in the Employability and Vocational cohort will use the Skills builder platform to develop essential skills. Skills builder involves employers, educators, and organisations working together to ensure that everyone builds the essential skills to succeed.
- College students have access to a range of Virtual Work Experience modules provided by Project Choice (NHS) and the Skills builder partnership.

Gatsby Benchmarks

The Gatsby Benchmarks form the basis of the government's new Careers strategy and its standards represent the very best practice in careers education. There are eight benchmarks against which all the school and college careers programmes will now be measured. As a school and college with students with a wide range of disabilities and complex learning difficulties, we have interpreted these in a way to meet the needs of our student population.

These are listed in full below. Gatsby benchmarks are recognised as being a 'very good tool to help schools and colleges plan and develop their careers programmes'. The benchmarks enable us to measure ourselves against a standard and compare performance with other schools and colleges. Treloar's is guided by the Careers and Enterprise Company toolkit; The SEND Gatsby Benchmark Toolkit (Second Edition) which includes practical information for students with SEND and PMLD/Highly Complex Needs.

http://www.talentinocareers.co.uk/send-gatsby-benchmark-toolkit.pdf

The following table demonstrates how Treloar School & College aims to meet the requirements of each benchmark.

The 8 Benchmarks of Careers Education (Sir John Holman, Gatsby Charitable Foundation)
Gatsby Description How this is implemented in the School and College Benchmark
A stable careers programme	Every school, special school and college should have an embedded programme of career education and guidance that is known and understood by students, parents, teachers and employers.	 The programme uses guidance from a number of sources including the SEND Code of Practice, The SEND Gatsby Benchmark and Talentino's Advice and Guidance and SEND. A senior leader and the Board of Governors have a strategic overview of the programme. The programme is reviewed regularly and the feedback from students, families and employers will be used to inform any amendments made. The careers programme will be implemented using a combination of class and school/college activities, embedded into all areas of the work-related learning to develop skills and access to a variety of employers. We offer a whole school and college careers programme that is embedded within the school, college and residential houses. This includes engaging with our students, governors, parents, health professionals, employers and training providers.

What constitutes effective advice, information and guidance (IAG)?

The IAG offer will include:

- Information that is bespoke to the learner's needs, is accurate, up-to-date and objective information about personal and lifestyle issues, learning and career opportunities, progression routes, choices, living options, community access, health & well-being, where to find help and advice and how to access it.
- Advice that is bespoke and based on the learner's individual needs and is aimed at helping young people to gather understand and interpret relevant information and apply it to their own situation.
- Guidance bespoke impartial guidance based on the individual needs of the learner and specialist support to help young people understand themselves and their needs, confront barriers, resolve conflicts, develop new perspectives and make progress.

At Treloar's careers guidance will be

- Bespoke to each learner and differentiated to support the needs of the students
- Connect learning to the future.
- Motivate students by giving them a clear idea of the possible routes to future employment/apprenticeship/volunteering/supported internship/education opportunities/ future living/community activities that could be available to them.
- Widen students' horizons and show them what is possible.
- Challenge stereotypes.
- Raise aspirations.
- Provide the skills and knowledge necessary to make successful transitions to the next stage of their lives.
- Improve opportunities for our SEND students.

Based on the above every young person at Treloar's is entitled to:

• Access to a careers programme that is bespoke and tailored to meet the individual needs of the learner through a planned programme of events, meetings and actions throughout their time at Treloar's, to build upon previous learning, experiences and understanding and to challenge set views and intentions.

High-quality career guidance that is bespoke to the individual needs of the learner in order for them to make informed decisions about their future

• Independent careers advice for students (where appropriate)

• Bespoke careers advice from a range of familiar staff who have the skills and knowledge to support the individual needs of the student

• Unbiased careers guidance, showing no favouritism towards a particular institution, education or work option

• To receive an effective IAG service whilst feeling and remaining safe.

Access to a range of providers

Access to a highly qualified and experienced careers leader

Guidance that will promote the best interests of the students to whom it is given

Roles and responsibilities

All staff on a daily basis will play a role in shaping a student's view of the future including the preparation for transition from school/college.

Governors:

A member of the governing body is nominated to take a strategic interest in careers education and guidance and encourage employer engagement at the School and College.

It is the duty of governors to ensure that the following are implemented.

¹ Independent is defined as external to the School/College

• Independent careers guidance (where appropriate) is provided to students, that it is presented in an impartial manner, showing no bias or favouritism towards a particular institution, education or work option

• Arrangements are in place to allow a range of education and training providers to access school and college students as part of a broad approach to ensuring that all students have knowledge of all routes and options that are available to them

School and College Leadership team:

• Will support the Careers Lead to formulate and implement an effective careers programme for the College

Personal Transition and Progress Coordinators (PTCs):

• Will include members of the team who will be qualified and trained working to a set of recognised professional standards for careers advisers

• Will work closely with the multi-disciplinary team to identify the support needs of the students and put in place personalised support to be able to access future education/training/work/volunteering.

• Support students to understand different career pathways.

• Support students to develop the skills, knowledge and experience they require to gain their career/future goals.

• Where appropriate work with families of students to help them understand what career options are possible, with the right support.

Named Careers Lead:

Formulate the careers programme for all students across the School and College

Support the delivery of the Treloar's careers programme across the School and College

• With the support of the Senior Management Team

Job Coach:

• Will deliver a supported internship presentation to students working at Entry Level 3 and

• Will also work as part of the transition team to identify appropriate work placements.

Teachers and Tutors:

• Teachers and tutors should provide a bespoke careers education based on the individual needs of the students which support careers education and the development of skills that employers need through the delivery of the curriculum and enrichment. This might be through employability and enterprise lessons, PSHE/PSD and work experience.

• Support the development of functional English and maths

• Students attending Alton College will follow their tutor group activities related to careers education and personal, social and health matters whilst at Alton College access to Career

1. Record keeping

Colleges and school are required to keep systematic, comprehensive and accurate records of the advice given to each student. Records should be kept from the first point of contact with the student in their transition file.

2. Regulatory Standards

Under the new Ofsted framework which comes into force in September 2019, a successful careers programme will be reflected in the number of young people who progress to positive destinations.

The further education and skills handbook indicates that...

Inspectors will inspect how high quality impartial careers guidance enables students to make progress to move to higher level of qualification, employment, further training or independent living when they are ready to do so and how well students develop personal, social and independent learning skills (FE)

Schools' inspection handbook indicates that...

Ofsted will look to see if students are ready for the next stage of their education, employment or training. That they have the knowledge and skills they need, and where relevant, they gain qualifications that allow them to go on to destinations that meet their aspirations and interests and the intention of their course of study. They will look to see if our students achieve the best possible outcomes.

Ofsted will assess whether we are offering an effective careers programme that offers advice, experience and contact with employers to encourage students to aspire, make good choices and understand what they need to do to reach and succeed in the carer to which they aspire.

Ofsted will check to see if we support students to be ready for the next phase of their education, training or employment so that students are equipped to make the transition to the next stage successfully.
